Christmas Enthusiasm Mounts in Antioch; Stores to Open Nights

Tempo of Buying Greater at Start of Season in Many Stores

The tempo of Christmas enthusiasm mounted this week in Antioch as reflected in the preparations for Christmas programs and in Christmas shopping.

Merchants announced that starting Monday they will open their stores evenings through Wednesday, Dec. 23 in order to give shoppers greater time to make their gift selections. The stores will be open at least until 9 o'clock.

Stocks of merchandise in Antioch stores are larger than ever before and according to reports the local merchants are beating even some of the larger cities in quality of merchandise and prices.

It is the children who are spearheading the interest in Christmas as usual and in the churches they are planning special programs. Santa Claus is expected to be on his way early Christmas eve in delivering his gifts.

The schools will close on Friday, Dec. 18, until after the holidays.

Crowd of 300 Sees Masons Install New Officers Saturday

A near capacity audience of approximately 300 Masons and guests at Wesley hall, Methodist church, Saturday night, viewed the installation of the new worshipful master, Bernard G. Guillaume, and his corps of officers of Sequoit Lodge No. 827 for the ensuing year.

Guy Simmons acted as installing master and was assisted by Richard Chapman, Sr. who was installing marshal; Charles Watson, installing chaplain; and Oather Polsgrove, installing secretary.

The most recent grand master congratulated the new Sequoit master as did Harold Koppman.

John Blackman was the retiring master who gracefully bowed out of office as the installation came to an end.

The entertainment following the installation was presented by Fred Swanson. The stage was decorated to professional perfection, as was the entire installation hall. Mr. Swanson presented June Brown and Allen Keller of radio station WGN fame, who sang several semi-classical solos and duets. They were assisted by David Chasaw who led a string orchestra.

Mr. Chasaw, a famed violinist, played solos which kept the large crowd entertained. The evening was one of the finest that the general public in Antioch has had an opportunity to attend.

Lake Villa Increases Vehicle License Taxes

The village board of Lake Villa Monday evening raised the price of the vehicle tax sticker from a flat rate of $2 to $3 for passenger cars, $4 for one ton trucks and $5 for all trucks over one ton.

The board instructed Clerk Carl Reinbach to write to the State Sanitary Water Board explaining the financial problem the village has in its attempt to get a new sewage disposal system.

The cost would be $222,000 and the bonding power of the village doesn't exceed $100,000. The additional funds could not be raised.

Millburn Lodge to Install Officers Sat.

Millburn Lodge No. 127 A. F. & A. M. will hold installation of officers Saturday evening, Dec. 12, at Millburn Masonic Temple, Millburn. Chester Lundgren will be installed as worshipful master. Other officers who will be installed are: Allan Johnson, senior warden; Theodore Messler, junior warden; Carl Hughes, treasurer; Theodore Eng, secretary; Emory Allison, chaplain; Lloyd Tavernier, senior deacon; Donald Croft, junior deacon; Robert Worth, senior steward; Walter Johns, junior steward; Tom Harness, Marshal; Onay Hollenbeck, Tyler.

To Handle Incoming Christmas Mail At Ford Sales Garage

Preparing to take care of the Christmas rush at the Antioch post-office, Postmaster Roy Kufalk is moving rural carriers and their distribution tables to the rear room of the Carlson Ford Sales building this weekend. All incoming parcel post packages will be delivered there first and those not destined for the rural routes will be sent to the office on Lake st. for distribution.

The new postoffice building already is too small for the operations of the postal employees at the time of the Christmas rush and the same plan that was followed when the office was on Main st., is being resorted to.

Antioch Beats Hebron; Loses to Wauconda; to Play Ela-Vernon Here

J-V's Beat Wauconda-Hebron, Frosh Win From Wauconda

Antioch High, conference champions, lost its first game of the season and broke a 14-game winning streak at the hands of Wauconda here last Friday evening by a 35-37 score. It dropped Antioch from first to third place.

Then the Sequoitis turned around and defeated the much stronger Hebron team on the Hebron floor 54 to 42 Saturday night.

Tomorrow evening the league-leading Ela-Vernon Bears will come to Antioch fresh from a 57-46 victory over the Palatine Pirates and this game again will be a thriller.

The Sequoitis found a strong defensive team in the Wauconda Bulldogs, such as they didn't expect and as the result only made 20.8 per cent of their basket attempts in contrast to nearly 50 per cent in other games. At the end of the third quarter Antioch was leading 27 to 26, but in the final period, Nolan, the Wauconda star player broke loose for three baskets and sided by Jacot tallied the necessary points in the last minute to win.

Nolan made 16 points and Jacot, 11, while for Antioch Mike Haviland was held to 12 points, Ben Floyd and Brownlee both to eight.

It was the first conference loss after 14 victories, and dropped the champions from first to a four-way tie for third place, behind Ela and Grant.

The Hebron game was a different story.

Antioch, playing on a smaller floor than their own, was ahead at all times, acquiring 19 points to Hebron's five in the third period. Haviland was high point man for Antioch with 21 points and Wilbrandt high for Hebron with 15 points.

The summary:
	G	FT	F	Pts.
Antioch	4	1	1	9
Hebron	1	0	0	2
Palmer	8	5	1	21

J-V's Get Revenge

The Junior Varsity got revenge however, for the loss to Wauconda by beating the Bull Dog J-V's 45 to 17. On Saturday night the underclassmen beat Hebron in the preliminary 45 to 38 for their fifth victory of the year.

The Antioch freshmen beat Zion-Benton here 28 to 17, but lost to the ZeeBee freshmen there 27 to 21. The Papposes won from Wauconda Puppies 37 to 29 Monday evening and will play Ela-Vernon here next week.

Play at Diamond Lake

The Antioch Grade School basketball team will play at Diamond Lake Friday evening. Antioch played the new Woodlawn school of Warren township last Saturday night and won both games between the first and second teams.

Larson to Head Lions of Antioch in 1954; Gurrin Addresses Club

Installation Set for Jan. 25; Ladies' Night at Glen Flora Club

Atty. Ted C. Larson will head the Antioch Lions club as president during the coming year, succeeding Homer La Plant.

Norman S. Jedicke will serve as secretary, succeeding Ed. Cranley.

Other officers chosen were: Harold Cardiff, first vice president; Rudy Eckert, second vice president; Anthony Scully, third vice president; Elmer Baethke, treasurer; Elmer Eberman and John Russo, directors for two years; Lester J. Osmond and Edward Kugle, directors for one year; Robert Lindblad, lion tamer; and Oscar Onstad, tail twister.

The election of officers took place at a dinner meeting Monday evening at Smart's Country House and was followed by an address by Quentin Gurrin, teacher at Waukegan Township High school and at Great Lakes who discussed rapid reading techniques.

Gurrin, a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology, described techniques by which persons were able to increase their reading from 290 words a minute to 400 words a minute, within 30 days.

"Not everyone can accomplish that," he explained, "but everyone can increase his reading and comprehension some," said Gurrin.

One method of increasing the speed of reading is to flash words on a screen through a stereopticon projector, decreasing the length of time of appearance to 1/100 second.

Gurrin said instructors start the readers on sixth grade reading and increase gradually. For example, the Reader's Digest is regarded as written in words and phraseology for eighth graders. The reader is taught to grasp the entire line of a newspaper with the emphasis on the first and last words.

As the reader sees the first word he also grasps in his sight the first few letters of the line beneath so that he subconsciously returns to that word as he continues and does not skip a line.

The club plans to entertain their ladies at the Glen Flora Country Club January 25 and install new officers at that time.

150 Students to Sing Or Play Instruments in Christmas Concert

Approximately 150 young people will be singing or playing instruments at the Christmas concert at Antioch Township High school on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 20 at 4 o'clock. These students are members of the high school Girls Glee club, A Cappella choir and Concert band.

Enthusiasm for the concert is running high as the performance date draws near. Santa Claus, himself, will be in attendance to bring Christmas cheer. Climax of the concert will be the singing of the thrilling "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah" by the combined choirs.

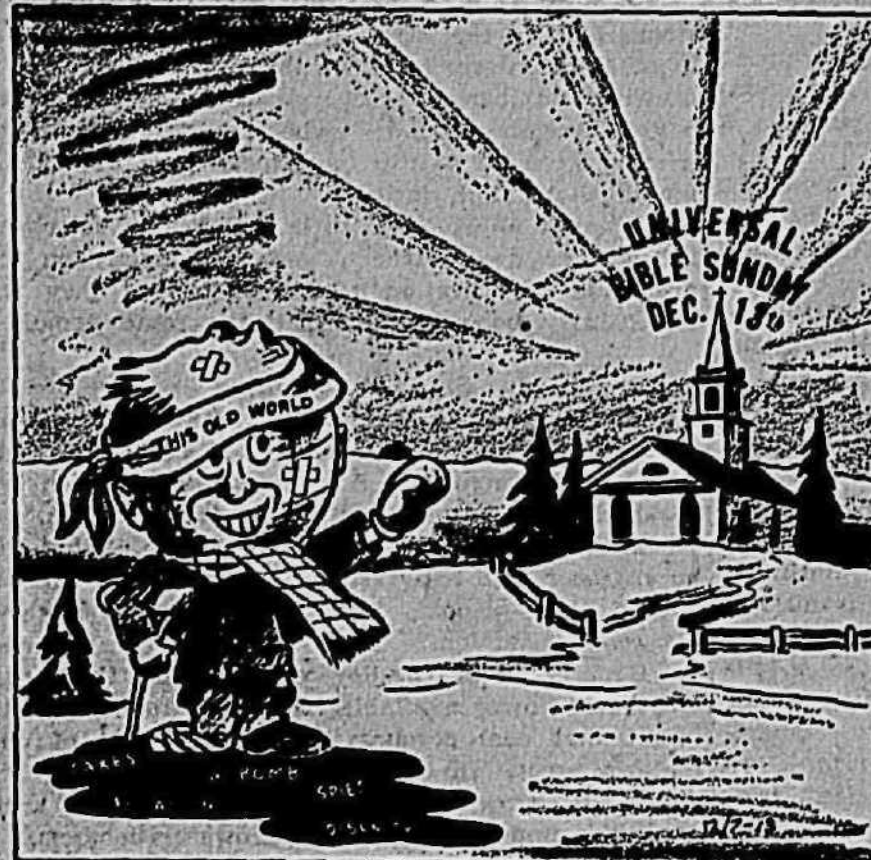

The Christmas concert is being presented by the music department of the high school under the direction of Louis Chenette as a Christmas gift from the high school to the community. There will be no admission charge. Following the concert a reception to which the public is invited will be held in the girls' gymnasium.

Marilyn Paglusch, Lyn Bolton, Jerry Healy, Sharon Behrens, Don Cardiff, Fred Miller, Keith Gordon, Elaine Melosi and Ora Paszkiewicz are members of the decorations committee. Members of the advertising committee are Bruce Mix, Don Wert, James Glenn, Marian Stull, Marlene Freund, Pat Haydon, Judy Romer, Ora Paszkiewicz, Debra Davis and Mary Schwicht. Those in charge of the reception are Joan Mair, Shirley Olschlager, Faith Sterling, Joan Braeckman, Shirley Ross, Donna Martin and Barbara Heiligenthal. Jaclyn Martin is accompanist for the a cappella choir and Wendy Midgley is accompanist for the Girls Glee club.

Injured in Fall

Mrs. Anna Wellman, mother of Mrs. John Moran, Jr., of 413 Orchard st., suffered a severe bump on the head last evening when she became dizzy and fell at the home of her daughter. Because no physician was available at the time, the Antioch Rescue squad was called to administer first aid.

Prizes to be Awarded for Best Decorations of Homes at Christmas

Moose Select Judges to View Outdoor Decorations in Township

Prizes will be awarded by the Antioch Loyal Order of Moose for the best appearing outdoor home decoration for the Christmas season in the Antioch area.

Mayor, James McMillen, Louis Bauer, Mrs. Fern Lux and Les Nelson have been chosen as judges and the prizes will be three hand painted plates of different sizes as the first, second and third prizes. The plates will be hand painted by Mrs. Elsie Hays in Christmas design.

Ribbons will be given for honorable mention and the winners will receive a blue ribbon for first place, red for second place, and yellow for third, which will be placed on the doors so that they may be viewed by the public.

All homes in Antioch township may be entered in the contest and all that is necessary is a post card sent to D. F. Kennedy, Jr., postmarked no later than Dec. 20, giving their names and how their homes may be reached, so that the judges can view the decorations Saturday night, Dec. 20, and can then award prizes on Dec. 27.

Antioch homes will all be viewed by the judges so no postcards need be sent by those residents. This is the first time that a home decorating contest has been conducted in Antioch Township.

Lower Grades, Band To Provide Program at Grade School Dec. 18

The first, second and third grades and the school band will provide the Christmas program this year at the Antioch Grade school.

The program will be on the closing day before the holidays, Friday, Dec. 18 starting at 1 p. m. in the school gymnasium and will be witnessed by both the upper grades and members of the Parent-Teacher association.

George Olsar is band director and the band has approximately 50 members, most of who are in the upper grades.

The school enrollment has become so large that a program in which all of the pupils participate would be too unwieldy," said Supt. Richard Whitacre.

The upper grades will provide the spring program and the first three grades will form part of the audience.

Seniors Attend College Day

A bus load of Antioch Township High School seniors went to Glenbrook High School south of Northbrook today to attend the annual College Day consultation program. Representatives of approximately 100 colleges and universities were to be present to advise the seniors on their plans for advanced training next year.

Two Teachers at Emmus

Mrs. Jane Coan of near Grayslake started teaching the first three grades at Emmus school Dec. 1. Before that time they were taught by Mrs. Helen Wolfenbarger who taught all six grades, but is now confining her teaching to the three upper grades. The seventh and eighth grades attend Antioch Grade school.

Wisconsin Man Killed In First Winter Car Crash Wednesday Eve.

Four Car Smash Injures Four During Rain-Snow

T. Martin Thorson, 52, of 92 Geneva St., Williams Bay, Wis., was killed instantly last night (Wednesday) and several other persons were injured in the first winter accident of the season.

The Wisconsin man had been coming west on route 173, and had just entered the snow belt, since there was no snow at Waukegan. His car collided head-on with one driven by Mrs. Bert Doolittle, of Route 173, Antioch. Thorson was traveling at high speed and struck the Doolittle car, which was traveling very slowly, with such force that it was driven back into a car driven by Erich Lubkeman, who had been following Mrs. Doolittle. When Lubkeman saw that the accident was impending he stopped, and it was while he was stopped that the Doolittle car was driven back into his car.

The Thorson car stopped at right angles to the pavement, and the lights of all three cars were extinguished from the crash. Thorson immediately jumped out of his car and attempted to flag down a car that had been following him, driven by Eugene Wire. Wire was unable to stop and Thorson was crushed between the Wire car and his own, and killed instantly.

Mrs. Doolittle was accompanied by her daughter, Barbara, 13, and Nancy Weber, 16. All three were taken to Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan for treatment of cuts and shock. Lubkeman and Wire were not injured.

It is thought that Thorson was shaken up and dazed by the crash, and for this reason got into the path of the approaching car. Also contributing to the accident was the fact that the snow belt extended only to about Gurnee and Thorson had been driving on wet but not slippery pavement until about a mile or two before he reached the scene of the accident, about one-quarter mile west of Hickory Corners on rte. 173.

Wire said that Thorson had passed his car several miles to the east and that he was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Thorson's body was brought to the Strang funeral home following the accident and has since been taken to a Walworth, Wis., mortuary.

Lt. Larson Explains Lie Detector Machine to Women of Moose

Use of the "Lie Detector" machine was explained to Women of the Moose at their recent meeting by Lt. Charles Larson of Antioch who, as a Lake county police officer, is fully trained in the use of the instrument.

Lt. Larson told of the early Chinese and Hindu methods and systems of lie detecting and traced the various methods down to the present machine which is 98 per cent accurate. Larson gave lodge members opportunity to ask questions about the machine and its operation at the conclusion.

He was introduced by Mrs. Evelyn Burnette, social service chairman, and she and her committee comprising Annette Steiber, Betty Heath, Rosemary Eckert, and Gloria Carrick served a lunch afterward.

Mrs. Donald Richards, Mrs. Lathan Bunce, and Mrs. Ralph Hoener were initiated into the lodge at the Dec. 3 meeting. Sponsors were Mrs. Lester Nelson, Marianne Palm, and Harriet Grewe.

A greeting card was received from Hawaii from the chapter pianist, Vida Shunnesson.

The Moose children's Christmas party which the chapter members assist is to be held at 2 p. m. Dec. 20 at St. Ignace Guild hall. Gifts will be wrapped this week.

The Women of the Moose will serve refreshments at the Moose initiation on Dec. 16. The women will have their chapter Christmas party on Dec. 17. Each member is to bring a gift of $1 to $1.50 value for the gift exchange.

Driver's License Revoked

Springfield, Ill.—Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter today announced the revocation of the driver's license of Maurice Martin of Ingleside for having driven his car while intoxicated.

Snow Falls in Antioch While It Rains in Zion

Rain turning to snow made highways hazardous last night and today.

As the warm air from Lake Michigan was driven back the rain which fell yesterday afternoon gradually turned to snow. At 6 p. m. when Antioch had an inch of snow on the ground rain was still falling in Waukegan and Zion.

Snow and slippery road was credited as part of the cause of the accident on Rte. 173 last evening in which one person was killed and three others injured.

December has been a comparatively warm month so far and last night's snow was the first. A Chicago report said that the temperatures so far this year have totaled 1,050 degrees above the average.

Chamber of Commerce Gives Names of Four for Director Nominees

Election of Officers to Take Place at Dinner in January

Bruno Manzardo, Harold Nelson, Russell Barnstable and Oscar I. Onstad were placed in nomination for directors of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce by a committee reporting at the monthly meeting of the business men at Smart's Country House Monday noon.

Ballots containing their names with places for write-in candidates will be mailed to members of the chamber within a few days and the results will be made known at the next meeting Jan. 4. Four directors are to be chosen.

The board of directors will then choose the officers for the following year.

Plans were made to have a dinner meeting in January at which time the new officers will be installed.

The business men at their meeting Monday discussed police protection for the midnight to 8 a. m. hours, but were unable to solve the problem of financing the service and left the matter to further discussion.

Methodist Men's Club Elects Officers and Hears School Program

The Men's Club of the Antioch Methodist church elected as officers for the ensuing year, Oscar I. Onstad, president; Clarence B. Olson, program chairman; Arthur Anderson, treasurer; and Porter Larson, secretary.

The officers were chosen Monday evening at a dinner meeting in Wesley hall following which entertainment was provided by Antioch High school students under the direction of Louis Chenette and Mrs. Walter C. Aschenbrenner.

The dinner was served under the direction of Mrs. D. M. Krieger.

Dr. Williams Has Heart Attack

Dr. R. D. Williams of 800 N. Main st. suffered a heart attack Monday night and is now in Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, where attendants say his condition is fair. This is the second attack Dr. Williams has had and is more severe than the first one from which he recovered. He spent Monday afternoon giving physical examinations to children at the grade school and over exertion is believed to have brought on the attack he suffered about 11 p. m. He is under an oxygen tent.

Horsepower on the Farm

The National Grange Monthly recently ran an article in which it discussed some of the tremendous changes that have taken place on the farm in a span of years.

In 1920, it said, each farm worker had about 5.2 horsepower at his command. In 1950 he had 33 horsepower, and he has more today. Agriculture has become the largest user of power in the country. To quote the magazine directly, "The American farmer can afford a tractor to cultivate his land, machines to do various kinds of work, a truck to haul his produce to market, and an automobile for the family . . . he can send his son to high school and college and have other advantages that tillers of the soil never before have known anywhere."

We all know how the machine utterly transformed manufacturing industry. The machine's transformation of the arts of agriculture is no less thorough. And, just as the machines that industry uses today are infinitely superior to those of the past, modern farm machines are so much better than their predecessors as to almost defy comparison. And their capabilities are not confined to making possible greater and more efficient production of food and fiber at lower cost. The machine is the farmer's most effective ally in improving and conserving irreplaceable soil.

Today's farming is a business. The machine has made it that.

Full Partners

Here's a fact that will come as a surprise to most people: In a large number of leading businesses the investors—those whose savings provide the tools—actually are as numerous as the employees who use the tools.

The Exchange magazine has compiled a list of 20 such businesses, operating in diverse fields including steel, automobile equipment, merchandising, household appliances, and so on. As of a late date, these concerns employed a total of 1,282,977 men and women—and they had 1,305,619 share owners, a difference of less than two per cent.

This is not true of all industry, and cases could be cited where the number of share owners and of employees are far apart. But it shows that the investor, about whose problems we hear relatively little, is both a large and a vitally important segment of our population.

A substantial and swiftly-increasing proportion of investors in the shares of industry consists of employed men and women. More and more of these people are using a part of their savings to buy stocks both in the concerns which employ them and in other businesses in which they have faith. And a growing number of corporations have established payroll-deduction plans whereby the employees who wish to do so can buy stocks in a systematic, month-after-month fashion.

What it all adds up to is that the investor and the worker are partners, each dependent on the profitable operation of business. And they are increasingly becoming one and the same person.

Energy Unlimited

The national Coal Association has published an interesting and unusual booklet. It consists of letters from distinguished Americans, all of which bespeak the vital importance of coal to the nation.

Ex-President Herbert Hoover wrote, "There is no engineer who believes this nation can do without huge supplies of coal. The nation will need increasing coal production."

General Omar Bradley wrote, "With the many sources of power available today we are inclined to forget that coal accounts for 90 per cent of our fuel resources. In this modern age out energy requirements grow by leaps and bounds and as they grow the importance of coal grows with them."

Eugene Ayres, the distinguished economist, said, "All signs now seem to point toward an almost explosive expansion in U. S. consumption of coal. By 1958 I believe that demand should be about 600,000,000 tons; 1960—640,000,000; 1965—900,000,000; 1970—1,200,000,000."

Other writers, none of whom have any direct connection with the coal industry, expressed similar views. In each case, the basic thought was that coal's contribution to America's living standards and industrial strength is and will remain far-reaching and indispensable.

The point is that no end to our need for more and more energy can be seen. And that means that all of us have a stake in the health and welfare of the coal industry.

Public Service Co. Employees Get Medals For Saving 4 Lives

Recognition of fast thinking and prompt action on the part of four Public Service Company employees who saved four lives in 1953 was made Tuesday at a conference of utility officials in Chicago where each received life saving medals.

The presentation of the Britton I. Budd medals for the saving of Human life was made to George Brooker, 212 S. Main st., Wheaton; Warren Hawkins, 114 N. Catherine st., LaGrange; James Kinsley, 1615 East st., Lockport; and George Koehler, 419 Stewart st., Plano.

The four 1953 awards bring the total number of persons to receive the medal to 115 since it was established 28 years ago by Mr. Budd, former president and vice-chairman of the utility. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in safety and preparedness and to give recognition for outstanding examples of prompt action and presence of mind in coping with physical emergencies.

Quick thinking and prompt action by Brooker, a gas operating department employee in this area, saved a woman's life. She had started across the railroad tracks in Wheaton unaware of an approaching fast train when Brooker thrust her to safety seconds before a streamliner whizzed past.

Hawkins, a gas customer's service department employee in Bellwood, used the new back-pressure arm-lift method of resuscitation (learned in a company class) to save the life of his nephew who had been accidentally buried in a sand pile cave-in.

Kinsley, using the new pole top arm-lift method of resuscitation, saved the life of a Joliet electric operating associate who had accidentally contacted a live wire while helping transfer transmission lines to new poles.

Koehler's prompt action in summoning medical assistance is credited by the attending physician as a major factor in saving the life of a Plano woman whom he found unconscious on the floor of her home.

Holiday Employment Rules for Children

Employers who hire teen-age boys and girls, seeking temporary and part-time jobs during the Christmas holiday season, were reminded today that they are subject to the child labor provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, commonly known as the Federal Wage and Hour Law, if they work in establishments shipping merchandise or producing goods for interstate commerce.

This reminder was issued by Thomas O'Malley, Regional Director of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions in Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

O'Malley pointed out that employers working in central warehouses, servicing several stores operated by retail establishments, may also be covered by the child labor, minimum wage and overtime provisions of the Act.

In all establishments engaged in interstate commerce, a 16-year minimum applies to work in general occupations and a minimum age of 18 applies to hazardous occupations, such as motor vehicle drivers or helpers, elevator operators, the operation of power-driven woodcutting machines and off-bearing; jobs involving exposure to radio-active substances; occupations involved in the operation of punch presses, shearing machines and power-driven metal forming equipment; jobs in or about slaughtering or meat-packing establishments or rendering plants, and in occupations involving the operating of power-driven bakery machines such as dough mixers, batter mixers, bread dividers and cake and cookie cutting machines.

"Growing boys and girls usually benefit from suitable vacation jobs that provide constructive experience," O'Malley declared. "When hiring young workers special care should be exercised to see that they do not work in unhealthy surroundings, nor in tasks that are not suited to their strength," he said.

He pointed out that the child labor provisions of the Wage and Hour Law permit the employment of 14 and 15 year olds in certain non-manufacturing jobs such as office work, but they may not be employed for more than 8 hours a day or 40 hours in a week when schools are closed, nor more than 3 hours a day or 18 hours a week when schools are in session. In addition, the employment of these 14 and 15 year old children is limited to the hours between 7:00 a. m. and 7 p. m.

O'Malley urged employers to contact the Division's offices for reliable information concerning Federal Child Labor Laws. The nearest office is located at Room 1100, 105 West Adams St., Chicago 3, Ill.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By
CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

Let's make a New Year's resolution, all of us who drive cars in Illinois. Let's say something like this to ourselves, and let's keep our promise:

"I promise to be a better driver in 1954."

"I promise to observe the Rules of the Road and the rules of courtesy, so I will not risk my own life or that of anyone else."

"I promise to think of the other fellow's rights and convenience just as much when I am driving a car as I do at a social gathering."

"I promise to keep both myself and my car in such a condition that will not place handicaps on my driving."

"I promise, above all, to be alert; to keep my mind on my driving and my eyes on the road, so I can see danger approaching soon enough to avoid it."

If all of us would make that resolution, and stick to it, we could make 1954 a banner year in Illinois for reduction of the appalling loss of life that has marked the last few years. Let's do it.

Looking for a real deal?

Now's the time to save money!

Today's local delivered price of the
BUICK SPECIAL
2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan Model 48D (illustrated)

$2256⁸⁸

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities due to shipping charges. All prices subject to change without notice.

WE feature the delivered price of the Buick pictured here to make a point about the big trade-in allowances we're giving today.

The price you pay for the car itself—the local delivered price—is the first thing to look for when you're bargain-hunting.

It's this figure less what you get on your trade-in that determines your real cost—the dollar difference you pay.

That means—keep your eye on the dollar difference. The more car it buys, the better deal you make.

So with our low delivered price and the high trade-in allowances we're giving right now—we think we have a whale of a buy for you.

And when you check into things, we believe you'll discover this:

You get more room and power for your money in this Buick than in any other car on the market.

You get hundreds of pounds more automobile here—more strength in the brawnier frame, more durability in the heavier chassis, more safety in the thicker structural members—than in a long list of cars at this Buick's price or higher.

You also get a lot more in a Buick that the specifications don't show—more fun, more thrill, more comfort, more pride and pleasure. But why waste another day—with time growing shorter, winter coming closer, and your present car getting older? If you're looking for a real automobile at a real buy in a real deal—come look at Buick right now.

Library News

Many years ago an immortal literary caravan traveled from Nazareth to Bethlehem to pay the taxes ordered by the great Augustus Caesar. Joseph, a Galilean carpenter, and Mary, whose child was soon to be born traveled with the caravan and the journey is tenderly and imaginatively told in "Journey to Bethlehem" by Deos W. Lovelace. This inspiring story of the Nativity, so appropriate to the Christmas season, was presented to the Antioch Township Library in memory of Mrs. Cora Yates.

Man's beginnings, so shrouded in mystery through the ages, is the subject of "Man, Time and Fossils" by Ruth Moore. Since the publication of Charles Darwin's theories of man's evolution, much has been learned. His work gave impetus to the researches of devoted scientists in all quarters of the globe. The findings of these scholars have been collected in one fascinating volume written in a brisk readable reporter's prose. "Man, Time and Fossils" was given to the library in memory of Elmer Hawkins.

HOME BUREAU PLANS CHRISTMAS DINNER PARTY

Bremer and Mrs. Mary Kohler.

Frank Lux, for the past four years service salesman at Amiel Fevrebend, Inc., is now employed as service salesman at the Wetzel and Turner garage at Waukegan.

SHORT STORY

Close Shave

By Mary L. Boyles

THE dark eyes of Tony Bevins were riveted on the razor in the little barber's hand. The man must know the secret that Tony thought he had kept so well.

A short time earlier, Tony had leaned back in the barber chair. Spillman, the head barber, had told him to make himself comfortable while the new barber answered the phone in the room behind the shop. As he relaxed he had begun to think about Edna Gregory. She was quite a woman; the only complication was that she was already married.

According to Edna, her husband had been everything from a barber to an oil driller. She had often said that one reason she admired Tony so much was that he could keep a job.

At the moment, he heard the barber approach from the back room. "Shave," Tony had said.

"Thought you were asleep," the barber had replied.

"No," Tony had answered. "Just thinking of a doll."

"That so?"

"Shave," Tony had repeated, opening his eyes an instant. He leaned back in the chair and closed his eyes again. In the brief interval in which his eyes were open, the image of the barber had been photographed on his mind. He was a little fellow with pale blue eyes. Above his rather full lips was a neatly trimmed moustache. The pale scalp was bald with a few strands of blond hair pasted across his head. Tony had dismissed the unpleasant image from his mind and thought of Edna again.

He had to admit that Edna and he had been clever about their meetings. So far as he knew at that time, no one even guessed that they had been together.

"Yes," the barber had said softly, "everyone should have a woman, but not some one else's woman."

The words had hung in the air. Tony had been conscious of Spillman giving his customer a breezy good-bye as he rang up the cash. He heard Spillman's footsteps approach his chair. "Tony Bevins," he said, "Meet the new barber Mike Gregory."

Edna's husband! Tony had heard Spillman's steps retreat and his cheer, voice as he welcomed another customer. Tony had opened one eye slightly and peered out from beneath the heavy fringe of lashes.

As Gregory wiped the lather from the razor, he leaned over Tony and spoke in a confidential whisper. "Now, I have a wife. Some folks might say she was too good for me; but even if she is, I intend to keep her." Fascinated, Tony watched the razor. Again it came down gently on his cheek.

Gregory, leaning over Tony again whispered, "If a man who had been taking my wife out, were sitting in the very spot where you are now, I would have him just where I wanted him." Tony felt the man's hot breath upon his cheek. The barber continued, "Right here is the jugular vein." Tony could feel the flat side of the razor against his throat. "I could split that and no one could ever prove that it was anything but an accident."

Like a person hypnotized, he watched Gregory lift the razor. It was aimed directly at the center of his throat. As he watched the razor come closer and closer, darkness descended and he felt himself pitch forward.

When consciousness returned, he grabbed his throat. A sticky substance adhered to his hands. He pulled one hand away; gave it a quick glance. The palm was covered with lather.

"Must have had an attack," Gregory said.

Tony tottered to the basin and dashed cold water on his face. "I'll drive you home," Spillman said. "Gregory can finish the hair-cut."

At the door Tony looked back. Gregory gazed at him without expression. Whatever he knew, Gregory had made sure of one thing—Tony would never see Edna again.

Cramer Addresses H. S. Board Wednesday Eve.

Don Cramer, mathematics instructor at Antioch Township high school, presented a talk at a meeting of the high school board held last night. Cramer gave an overview of the mathematics department at the school.

Other business conducted at the meeting included purchase of a new coil for the water heating system at the school, and plans to buy a new circulating pump. Installation of more showers at the school has made this necessary. A manual type comptometer was purchased for the business classes.

"Flexible System" of Speed Limits Proposed

A proposal calling for a "flexible system" of speed limits on state highways has been developed by the Chicago Motor club. The plan will be submitted to members of the legislature for their consideration in advance of the next session of the Illinois General Assembly in January, 1955, according to Charles M. Hayes, Motor Club president.

The proposal is based on extensive traffic surveys and speed habit studies over a three-year period. The plan urges that the present state-wide speed limit of "reasonable and proper" be continued with this exception: reasonable prima facie speed limits could be posted by the state in locations on the open highway where conditions justify them.

"This is a far more practical approach to speed controls," Hayes said "than a fixed, state-wide speed limit of 60 or 65 m. p. h. A uniform speed limit for all traffic on all classes and conditions of highways throughout the state would not solve the speed problem."

The Motor club opposes fixed maximum speed limits for five principal reasons:

1. A road built 25 or 30 years ago should not be arbitrarily placed in the same category with modern roads which claim wider pavements, longer sight distances, better surface, banked curves and divided lanes.

2. A uniform state-wide limit would encourage dangerously high speed for conditions in some areas.

3. If, safe for the worst roads, it would be too low for convenience and maximum utility of highways in other locations.

4. State-wide speed limits have little or no effect on accident rates. Of four mid-western states (Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Missouri) with "reasonable and proper" limits, all have death rates well under the national average. Illinois, with no state-wide maximum speed limit has the same death rate per 100 million vehicle miles as Wisconsin which has a 65 m. p. h. daytime limit and a 55 m. p. h. nighttime control.

5. Motorists tend to travel at or near posted speed limits. Traffic engineers explain that motorists assume that a posted speed limit is a safe speed under almost any conditions since it was determined by the state.

On the other hand, Motor club speed studies show that without posted speed limits to guide them on the open highway, motorists adjust their speed to condition and individual degree of skill.

Hayes said that a speed check made by Motor club engineers on two identical sections of U. S. 41 provided an excellent example of these speed tendencies. One section was located in northern Illinois where the speed limit was merely "reasonable and proper." The average speed of more than 1000 vehicles at this spot was 51 m.p.h.

However, on U. S. 41 in southern Wisconsin, governed by state-wide speed limits, the average speed was 60 m.p.h.—9 m.p.h. faster than the traffic on the same road in Illinois.

Hayes said speed checks in other locations in Illinois and Indiana bolstered the evidence obtained on U. S. 41: Motorists tend to travel at or near posted speed limits; when speed is left to their own judgment, motorists drive slower.

DENTAL HEALTH by Science Features

Scientists agree that good dental health is an important factor in maintaining general well-being. Yet recent statistics compiled by the World Health Organization show that nearly 100 per cent of young people living in industrial areas suffer tooth decay.

In addition, the WHO survey showed that equal numbers of adults are afflicted by diseases of the gums as well. And, according to a report by three dental scientists at the University of Illinois, diseases of the gums are the chief cause of tooth loss, at least in men 35 years old and over.

The Illinois scientists studied more than 5,000 male dental patients between the ages of 20 and 30. They found that almost half of the men who had reached the age of 45 either suffered from gum diseases or were completely toothless as a result of them. In adults under the age of 24, the figure was only five per cent.

Oral diseases such as gingivitis, pyorrhea, and cellulitis have been effectively checked with wide-range antibiotics. One report, made before the Dental Society of the State of New York, stated that terramycin was successful in treating over 90 per cent of more than 200 patients suffering from 26 different oral infections.

Of course the best way to insure good dental health is through abiding by these oft-repeated precepts: Brush your teeth after each meal, clean the crevices with dental floss, and see your dentist twice a year.

SHORT STORY

Over Her Shoulder

By Mrs. Frank Chase

THE headlights of the car shone like cat's eyes as Eileen sped along the deserted mountain highway.

She looked in the rear view mirror at the trailer following behind her. It was riding smoothly. Her husband was taking his turn sleeping in the trailer. At the next town she would stop to change places with him.

She turned on the eleven o'clock news. "The fugitive, who escaped from police in Los Angeles, has not been apprehended. He was last seen, heading south, in a stolen Ford. He is armed and dangerous. He..." She turned off the radio. Her fear of the dark was bad enough without any such reports to stir the imagination.

She was tired. Her feet hurt and she decided to squander a few moments driving time by stopping to change her shoes.

She pulled off the road but didn't turn off the motor. Her bedroom slippers were on the floor and she rubbed her swollen feet before putting them into the roomy slippers. She took a quick look at the map on the seat beside her. This was when she noticed the car in the ditch across the road. A Ford. It must have been there when she stopped. Strange that she hadn't noticed it.

As she started she heard the trailer door slam. She looked over her shoulder just in time to see the blind, on the front window, go down with a jerk.

As always, when starting, she glanced back at the trailer.

The criminal! He had gotten into the trailer when she'd stopped. She just knew it. He might kill Ed.

She slowed down. Maybe she could get a big rock by the road. What good would a rock do if he had a gun? There was no safety in stopping. She had to get to a police station—and soon.

Ed was always telling her she let her imagination run wild. If she was wrong this time he'd kid her about it for the rest of her life, she thought, as she pushed the throttle down harder.

She lost all fear of skidding as she squealed the tires around each curve and raced up and down grades.

Ed was smart. He'd know the right approach. If talk didn't work maybe he'd hit him with the shovel he kept under the bed. A shovel would be no better than a rock against a gun.

After what seemed an eternity she saw the lights of the city. She went through stop signs and drove to the well lighted police station. She blasted the horn and kept the car moving. She drove around the block, bearing down on the horn. When she came back to the police station, an officer was already on his motorcycle. "There's a criminal in the trailer," she shouted, as she stopped the car and ducked down in the seat, wondering if she had made a fool of herself. If there was no stranger in the trailer...

The officer, gun in hand, called to another officer who came running. He opened the trailer door and yelled, "Come out with your hands up or I'll shoot."

There was a silence. The officer fired a shot into the air. A tall, heavy set man came out, his hands held high. An officer searched him, removed his gun and shoved him into the police station. Eileen, her heart in her mouth, ran to the trailer. The trailer was empty!

The fugitive was locked in a cell and Eileen was helped into the station where she fell into a chair.

She started to tell her story. Just then Ed rushed in the door. "Oh, Ed!" she cried. "Are you all right? I was so frightened. What happened?"

"I got out to check the tail light when you stopped. Something hit me on the head. Next thing I remember is being picked up by some people. Thank heavens you're all right. I was afraid you'd stop along the highway. We were right back of you."

The officer asked Eileen, "How did you know something was wrong in the trailer?"

"Because he pulled the blind down. Ed and I had agreed never to pull this blind when either of us was driving because we signal through that window."

Salvation Army Makes Many Christmas Visits

Holiday visits—complete with cheerful greetings and gifts—will be made by the Salvation Army to approximately 23,000 persons who are confined to medical and detention institutions in the Chicago area.

On the Christmas visiting schedule are: Bethany, Covenant, Fridhem, Swedish and Norwood homes for the aged; Chicago Home for the Insurables; Evanston hospital and the Community Hospital of Evanston; Forty and Eight Convalescent center; Municipal Tuberculosis sanitarium, its children's ward and the North Riverside division; Cook County hospital and its tuberculosis unit and Children's building; Oak Forest Hospital and Infirmary; Dunning State hospital; Great Lakes Naval hospital; Downey, Hines and West Side Veterans Administration hospital; Juvenile Detention home; the Salvation Army Catherine Booth hospital and Emergency Lodge for Women and Children; the Bridewell and Cook County jail.

Members of the League of Mercy in Gary, Elgin, Aurora and St. Charles will visit hospitals, old people's homes and jails in their respective communities.

Included among the gifts are bags of Christmas candy, boxes of chocolates, apples and oranges, doughnuts, cake, ice cream, calendars, publications, stationery, T-shirts, loafer socks, pens, billfolds, bantam flashlights, and boys for children.

A special Christmas party will be held at Hines hospital on Dec. 22 in cooperation with the Junior Association of Commerce and Industry. Funds for the party and other year round activities for the veterans are raised by the J. A. C. whose members will "borrow" the Army's regular Christmas Kettle stands for two-hour periods on Dec. 16 and 17 in the loop and neighborhood shopping centers.

A Christmas program of music will be given by the Army's Chicago Staff Band and Songsters at Downey hospital on Dec. 15. The band and songsters also will share in a program at the West Side Veterans Administration hospital on Dec. 17, and will join the J. A. C. and the League of Mercy for the Hines hospital party on Dec. 22.

The League of Mercy is composed principally of the wives of Salvation Army officers and retired Sal-

DEEP LAKE

Remember the Women's Deep Lake Auxiliary card party on Saturday evening, Dec. 12th! Party will be at Henning Johnson's resort, even though Henning left for Florida a week ago. That was a huge turnout—his farewell smorgasbord. Henning took a plane to Florida, where he will spend the winter.

The Women's Auxiliary will hold its regular meeting and annual Christmas party on Friday, Dec. 18, also at Johnson's resort.

We learn with sorrow of the death of Mrs. Ray Short, a longtime resident of Deep Lake. Mrs. Short had been ill for the past year, and passed away in Chicago.

Harry Clauson of First Ave., Deep Lake, and of Chicago has just returned to his home after having undergone serious surgery at the Norwegian-American hospital.

FORDS are selling FASTER than ever!

We're paying TOP prices on USED CARS because of fast turnover... and it all adds up to a BETTER DEAL for you!

There has to be a reason why Fords are selling faster than ever. And there is a reason—in fact, there are many reasons! Few cars (none of them in the low-price field) can give you a choice—as Ford does—of both a V-8 and a Six engine plus a choice of three great drives—Fordomatic, Overdrive and Conventional.

Few cars (and only Ford in the low-price field) can offer features like Center-Fill Fueling, Full-Circle Visibility, and suspended pedals.

These are some of the reasons we're selling so many Fords... and that's why we can afford to offer you the very TOP prices for your car!

YOUR CAR WILL NEVER BE WORTH MORE...

While our used car stocks are low we can offer you a top trade-in allowance!

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It's been a long time since Washington has been so intrigued with an official as it currently is with Edward Howrey, now Federal Trade Commission chairman.

Some claim he is a modern Nero, fiddling while economy burns.

Others claim he reminds them of the policeman at the time of an armed bank robbery who asked, "Which way did the gunman go?"

He was told, "C.W. Harder they had headed north." "In that case," he replied, "I will rush south and head them off."

But regardless of opinions, he has set up another committee, college professor headed, as "Committee on Cost Justification." This group is to find out distribution costs.

For years FTC has maintained an economic section headed by eminent cost accounting authorities. FTC cost accounting studies are among the finest work the Government has produced.

But their work often comes to naught because no action is taken to stop abuses found.

Here is an analogy: Does a fire department, on receiving a report of a fire, send trucks to fight it, or does it hire more people to study the neighborhood to report that there is indeed a mighty blaze going?

Many see a planned stall.

Several months ago, the FTC made one of its most important rulings in history, setting up a carload as the maximum quantity purchase required of any dealer to enjoy the fullest discount given by the manufacturer. However, the ruling has never been enforced.

While the order applied to tires, it could also be applied to many other commodities such as printing papers and fabrics.

Howrey opposed FTC ruling as legal counsel for one of Big Tire Four and one most active in operating company stores.

In his announcement on the matter, obscure intentions appear. He hopes his new committee will be able to devise a system by which, he says, "business firms could keep their costs in a form which would enable them most readily to prepare the data required to show price differences reflect no more than "due allowances" for cost differences."

Many interpret this passage to mean "we would like to figure out some way that monopoly manufacturers can justify soaking independent buyers, while selling to company owned stores, and favored outlets at prices which merely return a fair profit."

Obviously, monopoly minded firms using pricing structures to evade anti-trust laws, with their own legal staffs and facilities taking advantage of every loophole, need little, if any, help from a government agency.

But if the FTC can be influenced to modify its rulings to favor these practices, a hard blow can be dealt independent business.

Howrey's appointment was confirmed with much misgivings by Congress to begin with. And economy minded Congressmen are going to be hard to convince that the government needs more committees duplicating work already being done.

Chicago Area Taverns Display Posters on Drunken Driving Hazard

The Chicago area's licensed liquor dealers will join the campaign against drunken drivers this week by putting up in all bars and liquor stores a poster which warns:

"Drunk Drivers Lose Their Licenses."

The poster, prepared by the Citizens Traffic Safety Board, is being distributed by the United Licensed Beverage Council of Illinois. It features a photo of State's Attorney John G. Gurnea and the message: "State's Attorney Gurnea warns: It's The Law. Drunk Drivers Lose Their Licenses. Don't Gamble With Your Life, Your License or Your Job. You Play It Safe."

Henry Morgen, president of the Council, said council members were glad to join the campaign. He added: "No Council member wants to put the damper on holiday spirits. But there is a big difference between having a good time and having an accident. Persons who drink and drive should recognize the point where fun becomes a tragedy in the making. We hope our action in putting up these posters will serve as a reminder."

Central High School To Give Christmas Concert Dec. 17

A Christmas concert will be presented by the Central High School band and chorus on Thursday, Dec. 17 at 8 p. m. in the gymnasium.

The band will be wearing the new uniforms recently purchased by the school.
